
THE INTERN PROJECT

wearetheinternproject@gmail.com

The Intern Project is back! Last summer, the Intern Project connected over a thousand interns with each other and with companies, and we plan to make this year's program even bigger and better.

What do we do?

Last year, we hosted a >700-intern picnic that featured food and booths from various companies in the area. We also organized small dinners for company reps to get to know interns in the area and published a weekly digest of events happening throughout the summer.

This year, we will host two >500-intern events, one of which will be the picnic at the beginning of the summer, and the other which will occur towards the end of the summer. We will continue to organize small networking dinners between students and companies, and will offer to feature your company's events on our digest.

How do you benefit?

- > Attend our large events (>700 person intern picnic, >500 person summer closing event)
- > We can help promote your event. We will feature your events as promoted on our weekly list-serv.
- > We can help find future interns/hires. We provide access to the resumes of thousands of tech interns in the Bay Area.
- > We can help your build awareness of your company. You have the option to co-host or sponsor one of our events, as well as to sponsor one week's email digest, which is distributed to over 2200 interns. We can also feature your company's events in our digest, as well as distribute swag to our many event attendees.

Sponsorship tier pricing and details are listed on the next page. If there is anything you would like to see in a sponsorship package that is not currently present, feel free to email us.

* We cover dinner costs and take care of all relevant logistical details of the dinners.

 Interns must "opt in" to sharing resume. Past experiences show that a significant majority of interns opt in to this option.

 We reserve the right to filter listserv posts for quality purposes. Each company guaranteed two events publicized via the listserv.
